Patches Paediatrics Service Description:

More than diagnosis, PATCHES is committed to delivering evidence-based therapy and support for children and young people with developmental or disability issues, working within a systems approach that values family, community and context.

We believe that early diagnosis of developmental delay or disability, and early intervention and support, will help children and families to reach their true potential.

The PATCHES model includes up-skilling local health staff, case-workers, teachers and parents, and providing Telehealth support.

If clients choose PATCHES as their partner for ongoing therapy and support, we provide this in the home, school or community environment. In partnership with families, schools and other service providers, we deliver goal-oriented, evidence-based therapy and support programs, and evaluate these through a research partnership with Telethon Kids Institute, a leading Western Australian research institute.

Patches Paediatrics is able to offer:

- Outreach support in the home, school, or other location in your local community;
- Support to learn life skills and how to better manage your day-to-day life;
- Behaviour Support to help you understand harmful behaviours and find positive ways to get your needs met; and
- General and specialised therapy interventions to improve physical, emotional, social, and psychological wellbeing, including Behavioural Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Speech Therapy, Counselling and Psychotherapy.
