Service description:

Kern Health is an allied healthcare team, providing Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, and Speech Pathology services to clients of all ages. With over 20 years' experience in the hospital, aged care and community sectors, Kern offers the highest quality of expertise and genuine person-centred care.

Transdisciplinary:

Clients benefit from our multidisciplinary approach, where allied practitioners work together on the care planning and delivery. This expanded clinical viewpoint, along with improved communication, ensures the best outcomes for each and every client.

Location:

You can access our mobile assessments and treatments at the most effective and convenient location for you, or the person you care for. Our therapists see clients at our consulting rooms in Mandurah and Applecross, and make community visits to homes, schools and places of employment.

Our purpose:

We believe in individual treatment plans for all ages, lifestyles and goals. Our aim is to assist each individual client to realise their own potential, and to enjoy greater independence, enablement and participation in the things they love.

Children:

Our paediatric therapists help children with a variety of difficulties and disorders. We work with parents, teachers and more importantly the child, to create learning through play and provide enjoyable objectives and routines.

Adults:

An in-depth, whole of person assessment will ensure you are benefitting from the best strategies and support to realise your fullest potential. We will assist you in overcoming limitations at home, out and about, and in the workplace.
